The official seal is designed around a protective shield bearing five symbols that represent the ideals and spirituality of Concordia University Texas. Centered in this shield is a cross, a symbol of our Christian tradition and mission. Beginning in the top left quadrant of the shield is the descending white dove with three-rayed nimbus, representing the Holy Spirit. The lamp of knowledge in the upper right quadrant denotes the role of the University in enlightening its students, both intellectually and spiritually. The bottom right quadrant of the shield holds Lutheranism's most recognizable symbol, the Luther Rose, representing the Lutheran faith. The book in the bottom left quadrant has dual meaning. It is a book of knowledge, both of faith (the Bible) and of all worldly knowledge. Across the top of the shield is the Greek inscription, "With God we shall do valiantly," from Psalm 108:13. Together, these elements create a seal that is representative of the University's many roles in the lives our students, faculty, staff and community – past, present and future.

Spirit marks promote Athletics Department and university-sanctioned teams, school spirit organizations and student organizations.
